In Boy Scouting, young men, aged 11+, have great, big, adventures. They come up with the ideas and they lead them – Things like:

- mountain climbing in winter
- camping under the stars
- backpacking
- boating
- biking

With the adult leaders help, they learn not just leadership skills, but also the life skills of independence, planning, and compassion. They learn how to achieve.

Why Boy Scouting?

The purpose of the Boy Scouts of America, incorporated on February 8, 1910, is to provide an educational program for boys and young adults to build character, to train in the responsibilities of participating citizenship, and to develop personal fitness. We do that by providing a series of surmountable obstacles and steps and guide them in overcoming them. The Boy Scout plans his advancement and progresses at his own pace as he meets each challenge. The Boy Scout is rewarded for each achievement, which helps him gain self-confidence. The steps in the advancement system help a Boy Scout grow in self-reliance and in the ability to help others.

- We accomplish - We have a blast - We're a bit goofy - We work on independence, leadership, and compassion - Boy Scouts (age 11+) Meet on Tuesday nights and Cub Scouts (1st Grade to 5th) meet on Monday's and Fridays at Immaculate Conception Church in Worcester.

Leadership

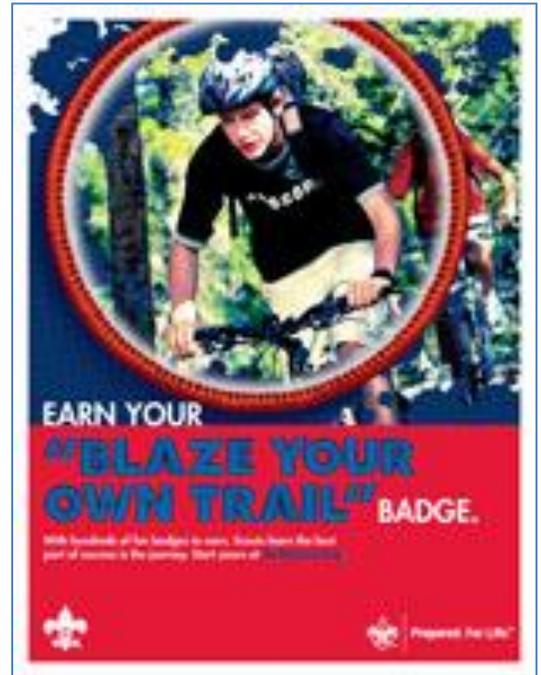

Boys learn by doing. They plan and carry out the program. Adult leaders coach, train, and inspire them to achieve. And they do!

Independence

The Scouts learn to do big project on their own – we use the outdoors as a classroom to work on independent skills – The boys even learn how to cook!

Compassion

The boys learn that as a team, we're all in this together. Nothing teaches teamwork like being on a mountain in the middle of winter, and relying on your friends to keep the fire going.

Scout Oath

On my honor I will do my best
To do my duty to God and my country
and to obey the Scout Law;
To help other people at all times;
To keep myself physically strong,
mentally awake, and morally straight.

Scout Law

A Scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly,
courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty,
brave, clean, and reverent.
